A study of previous records of depression indicates that the time to buy is rapidly approaching.

This is especially true in the case of buildings in which there is now a shortage equal to two full years of building construction.

PHILADELPHIAN KILLED. 2 HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Painter Killed at Lancaster When Machine Goes Over Embankment

A. Degode, 282 South Sixth street, a painter and paperhanger with a place of business at Sixth and Spruce streets, was killed, and Sidney Knoller, 625 Catharine street, and Anna Knoller, his six-year-old daughter, were seriously injured yesterday afternoon when an automobile in which they were riding went over a twenty-five-foot embankment near Lancaster. Degode died while being taken to the General Hospital in Lancaster.

The two men and the little girl left this city yesterday afternoon, and as they were passing the Lehman Place bridge over the Pennsylvania Railroad the steering wheel became jammed and before the machine could be straightened out it crashed through the guard rails and plunged to the railroad tracks below.

Members of a train crew saw the accident and lifted the automobile off the three victims. They were placed in a railroad car and a special engine brought them back to Lancaster, but Degode died as he was being taken from the coach to the ambulance. Knoller and his daughter are in a critical condition, suffering from internal injuries.

Boy Fatally Injured When He Is Struck by Automobile—Driver Is Under Arrest

MOTOR HITS TROLLEY CAR

One person killed and six injured were yesterday's toll from vehicular accidents. The majority of the injured are children.

The injuries of Samuel McGuigan, six years old, 71 East Wister street, proved fatal. He died almost instantly when struck by an automobile as he stepped into Penn street east of Germantown avenue.

After he had taken the child to the Germantown Hospital, where he was pronounced dead, the driver of the car, Alfred F. Mason, 103 Allen lane, surrendered to the police. He will have a hearing before Magistrate Pennock.

Struck by an automobile while crossing the street in front of his home last night, Charles Bernstein, thirteen years old, 827 South street, is at the Pennsylvania Hospital in a serious condition. He suffered a fractured rib and severe injuries to the liver, according to physicians. After the accident the driver of the car put on speed and fled, attempting to greet his father returning from work last night. John Kolbert, five years old, of 2224 Turner street, was run over by a motorcar at Ridge avenue and Twenty-second street, suffering injuries of the face and head. He was taken to the Mary Breckel Home, A. Mossbach, 1229 Girard avenue, caretaker and driver of the truck, will be arraigned before Magistrate Oswald at the Nineteenth and Oxford streets station.

2 HOMES ROBBED IN GERMANTOWN

Jewelry and Money Taken by Burglars—Third Crime in Neighborhood Foiled

ONE SUSPECT IS SOUGHT

Two robberies and an attempted robbery occurred yesterday and early today within a short distance of one another in the residential section of Germantown.

The man on duty at the Tulpehocken garage, Washington lane and Wayne avenue, frightened off the would-be thieves by shooting at them. Just across the street, at the Wood-Norton apartments, thieves were more successful, valuables worth $247 being obtained, while a short distance away, at 429 West Upsal street, a thief broke in a house and got jewelry worth $316. The thieves at the garage were foiled by William Barr, on duty during the early morning hours, who heard a noise, threw open the sliding doors of the garage and saw two men rapidly disappearing up the street. Barr fired at the men, but was unable to halt their flight. This was one of several attempts to enter the garage.

Robbers at the apartment house jimmied open the door leading to the apartment of Fred C. Osterhout and ransacked the rooms. They got a diamond brooch, valued at $150, and two women's handbags.

The home of John F. Lane, Upsal street, was entered by a side window, and two watches and chains, lavallieres and a diamond pin and wallet, bearing Mr. Lane's initials, J. F. L., were taken.

Mrs. Lane encountered a suspicious-looking man shortly before the robbery, who asked in broken English about the house and its occupants, and told a number of war stories. He was seeking food. She says he wore a long gray overcoat and a gray cap, and describes him as being five feet eight inches tall, of slender build, light complexioned, and with dark eyes, and about twenty-eight years old.

To Hold Forum on Sunday Laws

The Church Club of Philadelphia will hold an open forum on the subject, "Sunday—How Should Its Observance Be Regulated by Law?" at the Inasmuch Mission, 1011 Locust street, this evening at 8 p. m.

The educational committee of the Poor Richard Club has completed arrangements for a course in practical advertising, to be given at the Cannon street clubhouse beginning some time this month.

The sessions will be held once a week, from 7 to 9 p. m., and there will be no charge for participation. The course is open to members of the Poor Richard Club and to young men and women recommended by club members. The educational committee feels that in this way will be launched an undertaking that will be of genuine benefit to many young men and women interested in advertising, particularly those employed by advertisers, printers, publishers and agencies.

Applications for membership will close on January 8.

Somebody's honest

William H. Berry, collector for the port of Philadelphia, reported that a typewriter had been stolen from his office in Chester last week. This morning when Paul Berry, son of the collector, came in the office he found the typewriter resting on the desk. A note was attached saying that the thief had a guilty conscience and had to return it. Police arrested Preston Houlton as a suspect.

AT THE founding of Philadelphia many immigrants lived in caves in the river bank. In one of these the first child in Philadelphia was born.

In those rough days one had small worry about the safety of personal possessions. Two centuries, however, have made vast differences, so that today burglar-proof vaults and other devices are necessary to protect your valuables. We have individual boxes for rent at reasonable rates in burglar-proof vaults. This is but one of the many features of our excellent service.
